believing that he would strenghten the ticket in the east. Some preferred Mr. Towne, knowing of the sacrifice which he had made for principle and of his devotion to the principles set forth in the Chicago platform. But the choice fell upon a distinguished Illinois Democrat, who once discharged with great credit the duties of the office.

"In the campaign of 1896, when plutocracy and Democracy met face to face, Aclai E. Stevenson was an able and courageous defender of Democracy. During the campaign he spoke in seven of the close states.

"When I visited Bloomington neather companies he spoke in seven of the close of the compaign he was chairman of the meeting. In beginning my speech I referred to him as follows: We who have been keepers' of the Democratic faith love Adlai E. Stevenson, not for what he is, but we love him also because he is all we have left of the last Democratic ticket. The Bible tells you of the father who loved the prodigal son when he returned. It tell you of the Democratic father who loved the son who went not astray."

"I know that some of our allies felt grieved that they cannot feel unkindly toward one who, like Mr. Stevenson, was sure that they cannot feel unkindly toward one who, like Mr. Stevenson, was

The question of party division of offices is the only one which threatens to cause trouble. At present the Populists have all but attorney general and lieutenant governor. The silver Republicans have been granted and are satisfied with the latter office but the Democrats have been insisting on two besides the attorney general. This the Populists are not willing to concede, basing their argument on the ground that they have pledged themselves to vote for a Democrat for president with the chances favoring the putting off of Towne, their candidate for second place, in favor of another Democrat. The most probable result is a compromise, by which the Democrats will be igven the treasurer, in addition to attorney general.

UNKNOWN PATIENT BROUGHT IN.

—A man who was said to have been injured in the Rhymey mine in the hills east of Farmington, was brought to the city last evening on one of the Lagoon trains and taken to the Holy Cross hospital. At the hospital it was stated that the patient bore no signs of exernal injury, although he appeared to be paralyzed. His name was not known at the hospital and until he recovered his senses or some friend came to identify him there would be little chance of learning who the man really is.

"There is no doubt in the minds of the people in California that a road will be built in the near future from Salt Lake to Los Angeles." remarked Dent H. Robert at the Knutsford last night. "It is bound to come, and it cannot come any too soon for us. Then, too, it will be but a matter of time before some road builds down from the north through Oregon along the coast to 'Frisco. One thing is evident, there will have to be more roads into San Francisco in the near future in order to handle the rapidly growing trade with the Orient that is assuming such large proportions. Even leaving that out of the question there is enough fruit being raised in the state this year to keep a line busy. All over California this year there is an abundance of fruit and crops everywhere; money is stantiful and crops everywhere; money is stantiful and crops everywhere; money is over the outlook. Speaking of San Francisco itself, Mr. Robert said: "There are two kinds of people in the city; those who wear overcoats the year round and those who do not. The climate there is delightful and we never know what it is to get into a perspiration while out walking. We have our fogs every day from the sea, and these have the effect of keeping the city healthful, for after all is said and done, the save unstern there is in a wretched through the heart of the city that will have the effect of making it a delightful place."

When it came to the political outlook for the presidential election he said: "I should not be at all surprised to see California, which is essentially a Republican state, go for Bryan. The people are in decided doubt at present. They have always been against imperialism, but at the same time they recognize the fact that the developments in the Philippines during the past two years have been the salt vation of San Francisco, for they have a had the effect of bringing an immense amount of trade to our shore and building up the west generally. In '98 the state was in an awful state, there being absolutely no money to be had: crops were a failure owing to the drought, and things everywhere looked blue. Today, however, there is lots of money and everyone is feeling that good times have come to stay.

Since we left the coast we have visited both the national conventions in addition to New York, Washington, Niagara Falls, Denver and other cities.
